WHAT IS THE #liveswell STORY?

"Have you ever had a dream or a vision, just something that you want to work toward or makes you happy? We have always wanted to live life to the fullest, enjoy the little things in life and be the kind of friends you would like a friend to be. To us that is what it means to #liveswell."

Here's how it all began: we met years ago at an insurance luncheon and we hit it off right from the start. Everyone at the table would probably agree because we never stopped talking. We were both passionate about our businesses and our lives and we shared a lot of similar goals.

We spent years collaborating on ideas, sharing best practices and leaning on each other when needed. We realized that our individual strengths complemented each other and that we would make a great team! We wanted to join forces and build the kind of agency that supports the #liveswell concept. We strive to provide peace of mind to our clients so they can spend more time enjoying life than worrying about their hard-earned assets. We want to provide a fun, exciting work environment where our teams really love coming to work every day. We want to give back to our communities, put smiles on our neighbors faces, food in their bellies or clothes on their backs.

We love what we do, we love how we do it and we want everyone to love it and #liveswell too!

SUMMER BRINGS THE SUN... and the fire!

KEEP WILDFIRES AT BAY

You may not be able to prevent forest fires, but you can take some measures to keep them away from your doorstep.

- Clear leaves and twigs from gutters, eaves and porches, which can feed a fire.
- Remove dead vegetation from within 10 feet of your home, as well as anything flammable, such as stacks of firewood or propane tanks.
- Replace or repair loose or missing roof shingles or tiles for the greatest defense against smoldering embers.
- A dry lawn can feed a fire; keep it well hydrated and maintained.

FIRE UP THE GRILL - NOT YOUR HOME!

Planning to tap your inner grill master in the coming months?

- Be sure to keep your grill away from your home, deck railings and overhanging branches or patio plants.
- Regular maintenance is important to avoid fat build-up and reduce fire risk.
- If you have a gas grill, check the tank hose for leaks each year before using it.
- For charcoal grills, use only charcoal starter fluid and never add it to the fire.

- When you're done grilling, cool the coals completely before disposing them in a metal container.

BURNING RUBBER - PREVENT CAR FIRES

Vehicle fires account for about 10 percent of all fires and on average, there are about 17 auto fires an hour.

- The best way to prevent car fires is good maintenance. Service your vehicle regularly and if you see leaks, get them checked.
- Moving fuel brings risk, so if you must transport fuel, be aware that it's a dangerous and volatile liquid, and if it vents into the passenger or trunk compartment, it can be ignited with the slightest spark.
- Never park where grass or other flammables are touching the vehicle's exhaust system.
- Signs of trouble can be cracked or loose wiring or electrical problems, oil or fluid leaks, smoke/flames or the smell of burning rubber or plastic, rapid changes in fuel or fluid level, or engine temperature.
- If a fire does start in your car, pull over immediately, turn off the engine and after making sure it's safe, get out of the car. Stay at least 100 feet away from your vehicle and wait for help.

GET THE RIGHT PROTECTION

Sometimes, the best maintenance, the best practices and the most careful driving can't keep us from a loss. That's why the best favor you can give yourself and your family is protection.

Check with your Account Manager to make sure your Home and Auto insurance is enough so that if the worst does happen, we've got you well covered.
